

Colonel, Disc Jockey Sharing Air Force Spotlight Here Today

Two men who have done unequalled duty for war-torn Korea will be stars at the benefit banquet climaxing Torrance's week-long "Salute to the Golden Anniversary of Air Power" tonight starting at 8 p.m.

Col. Dean Hess, one of America's most decorated war heroes, will be the speaker, while Johnny Grant, disc jockey and movie star will be the emcee.

Grant has been honored by President Eisenhower for his troop entertainment trips overseas. Johnny knows both the man and the ravaged country concerned, which Colonel Hess will recount at the 85 a plate benefit for Korean War Orphans. Grant has taken eleven troupes of entertainers to Korea and is presently readying a Christmas show for the Far East Theatre.

Many high ranking Air Force officers are expected to join Mayor Albert Isen and other city and civic leaders at the affair at which both the City of Torrance and the Torrance Chamber of Commerce will receive golden airplane models for their cooperation with the United States Air Force.

Miss Jackie Leko, 17-year-old Torrance beauty, will similarly be honored with an award. As "Miss Air Force," Jackie has appeared on many radio and TV Shows "plugging" the current Air Force celebration and Torrance.

Adult Basketball Teams Practice

Players and managers of adult basketball teams which will be entered in the Torrance Open or Industrial Leagues, can practice at the North High gymnasium on Monday and Wednesday evenings. The gym is open from 6:30 to 10 p.m. Phone "Red" Moon at the City Recreation Dept. for more information.

QUEEN ON TV... Queen Jackie Leko, "Miss Air Force" for tonight's celebration here, is shown with Jack McElroy and Col. Dean Hess during her appearance last week on television. Queen Jackie was chosen from candidates in the area to symbolize the 50th anniversary of air power for Torrance.

CHECK OUT IN JET... Queen Jackie Leko and Recruiting Sgt. B. Vallory check control panel of North American Aviation's supersonic F-100 during a tour of the company's plant last week. "Miss Air Force" has been busy during the past week visiting shows and aircraft plants in area.
